QUESTIONS YOU MAY HAVE ABOUT HYPNOTHERAPY:

DO I NEED HYPNOTHERAPY?

If you have nervous symptoms such, as tension, depression, fears, fatigue and certain physical complaints for which your doctor finds no physical basis; if you find it difficult and/or challenging to get along in your work or in your relations with people; if you have a school, sex, or marital/partner problem and/or issues or if you merely feel irritable, unhappy, and believe you are not getting the most out of life, hypnotherapy will be of help to you.

HOW DOES HYPNOTHERAPY WORK?

Nervous symptoms and unwarranted unhappiness are the product of inner emotional conflicts. In hypnotherapy you are helped to understand your conflicts. In this way, it is possible for you to do something constructive about solving them.

CAN PHYSICAL SYMPTOMS BE CAUSED BY EMOTION?

Many physical symptoms are psychosomatic in nature which mean that they have an emotional or nervous basis. When" you come to think of it, it is not really so strange that emotional strain or worry should produce physical symptoms. After all, every organ in your body is connected with your brain by nerve channels; and so it is logical that when your nervous system is upset by some crisis or conflict, you may feel the effects in various organs of the body.

IF I CANNOT SOLVE MY PERSONAL PROBLEMS WITHOUT HELP, DOES THAT MEAN THAT I HAVE A WEAK WILL OR AM ON THE WAY TO A MENTAL BREAKDOWN?

No. Even if you have no serious symptoms, it is difficult to work out emotional problems by yourself because you are too close to them and cannot see them clearly. More and more people, even those with a great deal of psychological knowledge, are seeking help these days because they realize this. The fact that you desire aid is a compliment to your judgment and is no indication that you are approaching a mental breakdown.

Hypnotherapy has helped countless numbers of people to overcome serious emotional symptoms and has enabled many others to increase their working capacity and to better their relationships with people.

WHAT HAPPENS TO THE INFORMATION ABOUT ME?

In scientific work, records are necessary since they permit a more thorough dealing with one's problems/issues. It is understandable that you might be concerned about what happens to the information about you because much or all of this information is highly personal. Client records. are confidential. No outsider, not even your closest relative or family physician, is permitted to see your chart without your written permission.

QUESTIONS YOU MAY HAVE ABOUT HYPNOSIS:

1. EXACTLY WHAT IS HYPNOSIS?

Hypnosis is a state of altered consciousness that occurs normally in every person just before he/she enters into the sleep state. In therapeutic hypnosis, we prolong this brief interlude so that we can work within its' bounds.

2. CAN EVERYBODY BE HYPNOTIZED?

Yes, because it is a normal state that everybody passes through before going to sleep. However, it is possible to resist hypnosis like it is possible to resist going to sleep. But even if one resists hypnosis, with practice, the resistance can be overcome.

3. WHAT IS THE VALUE OF HYPNOSIS?

There is no magic in hypnosis. There are some conditions in which it is useful and others in which no great benefit is derived. It is employed in medicine to reduce tension and pain which accompany various physical problems, and to aid certain rehabilitative procedures. In psychiatric practice, it is helpful in short-term therapy, and also, in some cases, in long-term treatment where obstinate resistance has been encountered.

4. WHO CAN DO HYPNOSIS?

Only a qualified professional person should decide whether one needs hypnosis or could benefit from it. The professional person requires special training in the techniques and uses of hypnosis before he/she can be considered qualified and should be certified in Hypnotherapy.

5. WHY DO SOME PEOPLE HAVE DOUBTS ABOUT HYPNOSIS?

Hypnosis is a much-misunderstood phenomenon. For centuries it has been affiliated with spiritualism witchcraft and various kinds, of mumbo jumbo. The exaggerated claims made for it by undisciplined persons have turned some people against it. Some doctors, psychiatrists, and other practitioners too doubt the value of hypnosis, because Freud gave it up eighty years ago and because they themselves have not had much experience with its' modern uses.

6. CAN'T HYPNOSIS BE DANGEROUS?

The hypnotic state is no more dangerous than is a sleep state. However, unskilled operators may give subjects foolish suggestions, such as one often witnesses in stage hypnosis, where the trance is exploited for entertainment purposes. A delicately balanced and sensitive person exposed to unwise and humiliating suggestions may respond with anxiety. On the whole, there are no dangers in hypnosis when practiced by ethical and qualified practitioners.

7. I AM AFRAID I CAN'T BE HYPNOTIZED.

All people go through a state akin to hypnosis before falling asleep. There is no reason why you should not be able to enter a hypnotic state.

8. WHAT DOES IT FEEL LIKE TO BE HYPNOTIZED?

The answer to this is extremely important because it may determine whether or not you can benefit from hypnosis. Some people give up hypnosis after a few sessions because they are disappointed in their reactions, believing that they are not suitable subjects. The average person has the idea that he/she will go through something different, new and spectacular in the hypnotic state. Often, he/she equates being hypnotized with being anaesthetized, or being asleep, or being unconscious. When in hypnosis, he/she finds that his/her mind is active; that he/she can hear every sound in the room; that he/she can resist suggestions if he/she so desires; that his/her attention keeps wandering, his/her thoughts racing around; that he/she has not fallen asleep, and that he/she remembers everything that has happened when he/she opens his/her eyes, he/she believes himself/herself to have failed. He/she imagines then that he/she is a poor subject, and he/she is apt to abandon hypnotic treatment. The experience of being hypnotized is no different from the experience of relaxing and of starting to fall asleep. Because this experience is so familiar to you, and because you may expect something startlingly different in hypnosis, you may get discouraged when a trance is induced. Remember, you are not anaesthetized, you are not unconscious, you are not asleep. Your mind is active, your thoughts are under your control, you perceive all stimuli, and you are in complete communication with the therapist. The only unique thing you may experience is a feeling of heaviness in your arms and tingling in your hands and fingers. If you are habitually a deep sleeper, you may doze momentarily. If you are a light sleeper, you may have a feeling you are completely awake.

9. HOW DEEP DO I HAVE TO GO TO GET BENEFITS FROM HYPNOSIS?

If you can conceive of hypnosis as a spectrum of awareness that stretches from waking to sleep, you will realize that some aspects are close to the waking state and share the phenomena of waking; and some aspects are close to sleep, and participate in the phenomena of light sleep. But over the entire spectrum, suggestibility is increased; and this is what makes hypnosis potentially beneficial, provided we put the suggestibility to constructive use. The depth of hypnosis does not always correlate with the degree of suggestibility. In other words, even if you go no deeper than the lightest stages of hypnosis and are merely mildly relaxed, you will still be able to benefit from its therapeutic effects. It so happens that with practice you should be able to go deeper, but this really is not too important in the great majority of cases.

10. HOW DOES HYPNOSIS WORK?

The human mind is extremely suggestible and is being bombarded constantly with suggestive stimuli from the outside, and suggestive thoughts and ideas from the inside. A good deal of suffering is the consequence of "negative" thoughts and impulses invading one's mind from subconscious recesses. Unfortunately, past experiences, guilt feelings, and repudiated impulses and desires are incessantly pushing themselves into awareness, directly or in disguised forms, sabotaging one's happiness, health and efficiency. By the time one has reached adulthood, he/she has built up "negative" modes of thinking, feeling and acting which persist like bad habits. And like any habits, they are hard to break.

In hypnosis, we attempt to replace these "negative" attitudes with "positive" ones. But it takes time to disintegrate old habit patterns: so, do not be discouraged if there is no immediate effect. If you continue to practice the principles taught by your therapist, you will eventually notice change. Even though there may be no apparent alterations on the surface, a restructuring is going on underneath. An analogy may make this clear. If you hold a batch of white blotters above the level of your eyes so that you see the bottom blotter, and if you dribble drops of ink onto the top blotter, you will observe nothing different for a while until sufficient ink has been poured to soak through the entire thickness. Eventually the ink will come down. During this period, while nothing seemingly was happening, penetrations were occurring. Had the process been stopped before enough ink had been poured, we would be tempted to consider the process a failure. Suggestions in hypnosis are like ink poured on layers of resistance; one must keep repeating them before they come through to influence old, destructive patterns.

11. HOW CAN I HELP IN THE TREATMENT PROCESS?

It is important to mention to your therapist your reactions to treatment and to him/her, no matter how unfounded, unfair or ridiculous these reactions may seem. If for any reason, you believe you should, discontinue Our services as well as outpatient psychotherapy with your therapist, please mention your desire to do so. Important clues to assist you with your healing process may be derived from your reactions, dreams and resistances/reluctances to therapists/ significant others that will provide an understanding of your inner conflicts and will help you with your treatment/recovery/healing process.

To Promote Safety and the Safety of myself, I _____ agree to the following:

1. I will attend every scheduled individual psychotherapy session in order to promote my individual healing/optimal mental health. If, in the event of an extreme emergency, I am forced to miss a scheduled individual psychotherapy session, I understand it is up to me to create an agreement with my therapist and to make up what I have missed. I agree to cancel an individual psychotherapy session with a 24-hour notice and I understand if I do not cancel the individual psychotherapy session with a 24-hour notice, I will be charged the individual psychotherapy session fee.
2. I understand that my resistance or fear may come up and cause me to want to run or drop out. If that happens, I agree to talk with my therapist and to attend the next scheduled individual psychotherapy session to work through my feelings.
3. I will not abandon myself of my individual healing no matter what my false ego may "think".
4. I will not consume alcohol and/or illicit drugs while participating in Heart Centered Hypnotherapy Resource Building/Emotional Release individual weekly sessions.
5. I will keep myself safe and not hurt myself. If I am feeling unsafe and thinking of hurting myself, I will immediately speak with my therapist/support networks.
6. I understand that I am responsible for my own healing process and I take full responsibility for my own recovery. I know that I create my own reality and my own experiences.
7. I understand the risks involved with the Heart Centered Hypnotherapy Resource Building/Emotional Release Individual Sessions involve my experiencing feelings that I have repressed, suppressed, avoided and/or numbed-out as a means to cope. I understand that I may experience uncomfortable and sometimes painful feelings in order to heal and this is a benefit of participating in Heart Centered Hypnotherapy. I understand I may experience potentially serious anxiety related symptoms/effects. I do not hold my therapist, Jeri Srur, LCSW responsible for what I experience.
8. I agree to the "1-2-2 Stop" Rule which means that at any time if I am not feeling safe during HCHRB/ERIS, I have the option to say to my therapist "1-2-3 Stop" and the HCHRB/ERIS session will be discontinued.
